10                   EXEMPTION FROM PACER FEES

11
12                  The Court has appointed Martin Quinn as Special Master in the above-referenced case.
13                  Mr. Quinn is requesting a PACER fee waiver, which the undersigned construes as a motion for 14                  exemption from the PACER fee. The standards established by the Judicial Conference for 15                  granting such an exemption are to avoid unreasonable burdens and to promote public access to 16                  such information. Both standards must be met in order for the court to grant an exemption from 17                  the PACER fee.

18                  It would be unreasonable to burden Mr. Quinn with payment of this fee while he is 19                  working under appointment by and on behalf of the Court. Because he is performing a public
20                  function as a Special Master in this case, public access to information will be promoted if he has 21                  free access to the entire docket in this case. Thus, the Court finds that both standards have been 22                  met in this instance and grants exemption from PACER user fees. The exemption shall remain
23                  in place as long as Mr. Quinn remains appointed as Special Master in the above-referenced case.
